ALONZO STAGG TAKES VACATION

Chicago, November 28.—Alonzo Stagg, director of athletics at the University of Chicago, left today for Pinckney, N. C., for a vacation of a month. Stagg was threatened with a physical breakdown and went to the mountains, where he spent several months, and the only way in this to take charge of football practice.

He still feels that his health requires attention, but he will break his rest in February, enough to attend the meeting of the football rules committee at New York.

VIRGINIA PLAYS HARVARD'S NINE

Nearly all of the big leagues of the East will be met, including Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Brown, Cornell, Amherst, Colby, etc., and the more prominent ones of the South Atlantic division—Georgetown, Johns Hopkins, North Carolina, Duke, and the Virginia Military Institute.

Crimson Added to List. For the first time in many years, three games will be played with Yale, the first to take place in Norfolk on Saturday, April 11, the second on Lambeth Field on Easter Monday, and the third at New Haven, on May 2, the final contest of the season. There will be two games with Princeton, one here and the other at Princeton. Last season Virginia captured both contests from the Tigers. A new team on the schedule is Harvard. The Crimson has often played in the South, and has been on the diamond in Washington, but it has been some years now since the two lines have clashed.

As usual, there will be three games with Georgetown and the same number with the University of North Carolina. With the Blue and Gray, however, the order will be reversed. Two of the contests will be played on Lambeth Field, and the other at White Sulphur Springs. In former years two of the games were staged on Georgetown Field. The team will journey to North Carolina to play two of the games with the Chapel Hill nine—the first to be pulled off at Durham on Saturday, April 12, and the second on Monday, April 14, following at Greensboro. The third contest takes place at Lambeth Field, on Saturday, April 25.

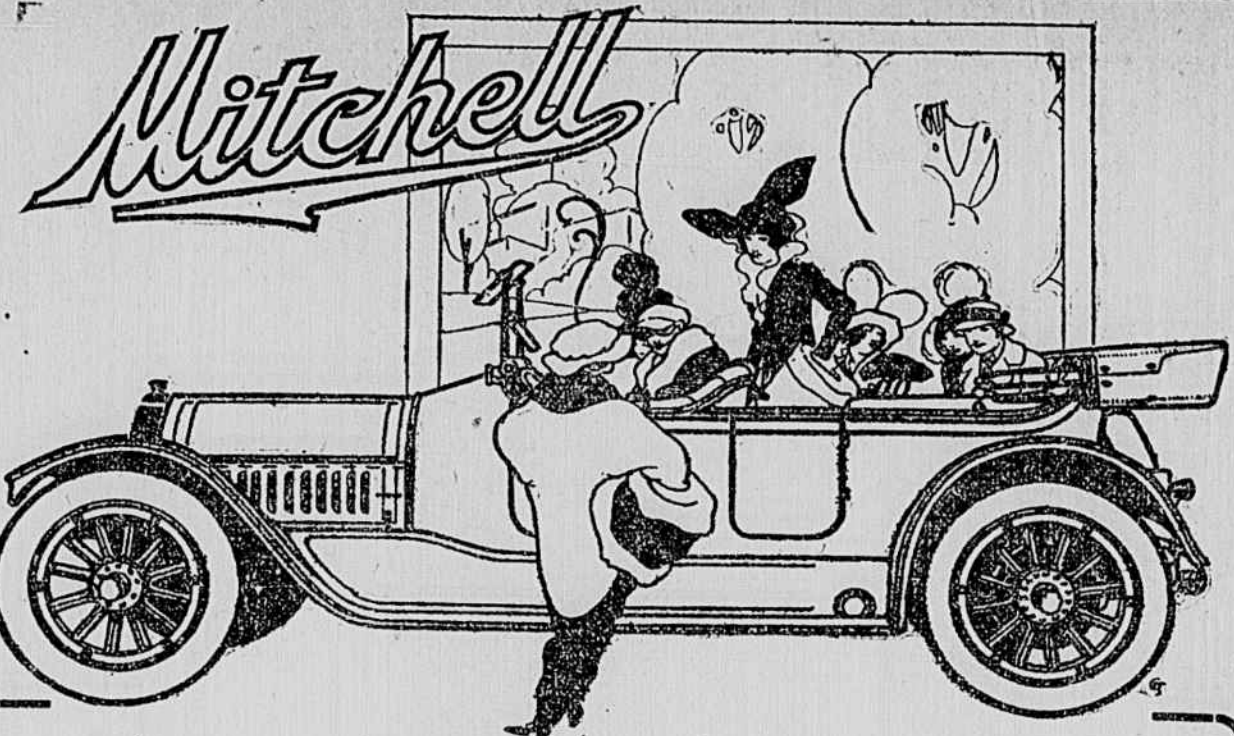

The schedule follows: Saturday, March 7—Washington Americans, at Charlottesville. Wednesday, March 11—Washington Americans, at Charlottesville. Saturday, March 14—Washington Americans, at Charlottesville. Wednesday, March 18—Washington Americans, at Charlottesville. Saturday, March 21—Washington Americans, at Charlottesville. Friday, March 25—Open. Monday, March 28—Open. Thursday, April 2—Cornell, at Charlottesville. Friday, April 3—Cornell, at Charlottesville. Wednesday, April 8—Leigh, at Charlottesville. Friday, April 10—Princeton, at Charlottesville. Saturday, April 11—Yale, at Norfolk. Monday, April 13—Yale, at Charlottesville. Tuesday, April 14—Johns Hopkins, at Charlottesville. Thursday, April 16—Georgetown, at Charlottesville. Friday, April 17—Virginia Military Institute, at Charlottesville. Saturday, April 18—North Carolina, at Durham, N. C. Monday, April 20—North Carolina, at Greensboro, N. C. Wednesday, April 22—Trinity, at Durham, N. C. Saturday, April 25—North Carolina, at Charlottesville. Tuesday, April 28—Georgetown, at Washington, N. C. Wednesday, April 29—Princeton, at Princeton, N. J. Friday, April 30—Harvard, at Cambridge, Mass. Friday, May 1—Brown, at Providence, R. I. Saturday, May 2—Yale, at New Haven.

MANY BIG GAMES MAY BE BROUGHT HERE NEXT YEAR

(Continued from First Page.) season, the favorite lost. It seems to have proven all along that to cause a team to leave is necessary only to give it the heavy edge, and the team, alone of all the major elevens, played true to form, and at that the Crimson was given an awful scare by Princeton. Next year the Crimson meet Carlisle or Dartmouth.

But the curtain is drawn; the season is over, and now upon the ashes of the future. One thing has been clearly demonstrated, the new style game has come to stay. Of course, the old line plunging methods must be resorted to if only to keep the game from becoming too one-sided. The strategy of the game devised by creative coaches, but the crashing tackle formations or the guardsback crashes, so well liked and so well known by those of us who have played football a generation ago, have been buried and there will be no resurrection.

Washington and Lee, with an admirable football team this year, failed to arrange a game in Richmond. The schedulermakers will be getting busy in

The Mitchell Line for 1914

Will Prove the Feature of the Show

We conscientiously believe that the intensely interesting feature of the American Automobile Show will be the Mitchell Line for 1914.

Our belief is founded on many things. Primarily, there is more car and more quality for the money in every model of the line than in any other cars now on the American market.

In every car we call attention to length of wheel-base, size of tires, perfect springs, and deep upholstery—these features constituting an easy-riding combination that is impossible to surpass.

The motor in each model is the popular long-stroke motor and runs as sweetly as you can ask, likewise as silently. As for the rich lines and exterior beauty, there is nothing on the market that can compare with these models at the prices.

The idea you gain from these definite statements is that we have left nothing undone to charm the senses as well as please the pocketbook. There is nothing left to the imagination. Every car is absolutely complete and the equipment, which is modern and characterized by quality, embraces those things which lovers of ease and luxury would be compelled to buy if they were not there.

When you buy any car of the Mitchell Line you make an investment that can in no sense be construed as a speculation. The quality of construction, of material, of equipment, is such that these cars will be running and giving the maximum of service long after many of the more expensive cars have passed from sight and sound.

We have kept absolute faith with the American people for eighty years. That in one way is your guarantee. Use that as the basis for your examination, but don't overlook the detail and quality that is before you in every Mitchell car.

Don't overlook the Mitchell Little Six at $1,895—the Mitchell Big Six at $2,350—the Mitchell Four at $1,595. Tell us wherein any one of these cars can be improved, and show us where there is so much quality, where there is so much comfort and luxury—at the prices or anywhere near the prices—in the world's automobile markets.

Here is the Equipment for all the Mitchell Models Which is Included in the List Prices as Given:

Electric self-starter and generator—electric lights—electric horn—electric magnetic exploring lamp—mohair top and dust cover—Tungsten valves—quick-action side curtains—quick-action two-piece rain vision wind shield—detachable rims with one extra—Speedometer—double extra tire carrier—Baird bow holders—license plate bracket—pump, jack and complete set of first-class tools.

Specifications of the Three Great Mitchell Models:

Mitchell Little Six—Fifty horse-power—132-inch wheel base—30x4 1/2-in. tires—two or five-passenger capacity $1,895
Mitchell Big Six—Sixty horse-power—144-inch wheel base—37x5-in. tires—seven-passenger capacity $2,350

These times may be changed by mutual consent of the captains in Class B League, but must not be changed in Class A League, except when satisfactory to both captains and the referee, and only then in extraordinary circumstances."

Rule 11—Section 13, amended to read: "If a player shall, while having the ball in his possession, advance in any direction, he shall be considered as running with the ball. A player who is standing still when he receives the ball, may step one foot in any direction in starting a dribble, but the remaining foot must be kept in position until the ball has left his hands. A player who is standing still when he receives the ball, may, in making a pass, or in throwing for goal, step or carry one foot in any direction, and then may jump from one or both feet, but the ball must leave his hands before one or both feet again touch the floor. One allowance is to be made for a player catching the ball while running, providing he stops as soon as possible. A player with ball in his possession changing his position without making progress, shall not be considered as running with the ball, neither shall a player pushed by one of his opponents be considered as running with the ball. The referee or umpire shall call a foul for violation of this rule."

Rule 11—Section 15, now added to this section as follows: "As to dribbling and shooting for goal with both hands at end of dribble, this shall be permissible for one-half of game, or for the has the nerve to take a chance with Portsmouth, Billy is our idea of a brave man.

The determination of the magnates to have registering turnstiles in the several ball parks of the league was wise and timely. Now they should adopt electric scoreboards as a help and pleasure to the fans. Reduction of the number of 10-cent seats in Richmond was a good move. Ten cents is too little to charge to see a game of baseball, yet it would have been foolhardy to try and make the change all at once. The policy adopted, that of gradually educating the 10-cent fan to the fact that he is getting too much for his money, is wise, one of the wisest things the magnates ever done.

Likewise the decision to retain the services of a recording secretary was wise. Altogether the Virginia League magnates are improving. If it keeps up we are going to have the same show-league that we had in the good old days.

Another writer was Steve Griffin. Steve, with his wife, is wintering in Toledo, O., said by many to be one of the best places to winter in there is. He announced nothing save that he would be remembered to all of the faithful, and that he might be back in the Virginia League next season. Since Steve is a manager and since every club in the league has a manager, assuming that Dr. Pressley can be coaxed to leave his practice in Norfolk, and attend to real business in Norfolk, there may be a question as to Steve's return.

Billy Hannon is to get back into baseball. The reorganization of the Portsmouth club hinted at seems to include Billy. At least Billy was present at the meeting in Newport News. Since the days of the Tidewater League Billy has been giving most of his attention to semi-pro teams and admits that he cleaned up a lot of money. If he has made money and loved it, if the Portsmouth franchise was transferred to Lynchburg.

As a parting word in discussing the football season, we would go on record as advising all of our friends to keep their lamps trimmed for the Carolina football team next season. If the same array of coaching talent can be gathered, with a team of yearlings reporting early and lusty for battle, there should be nothing to stop the Tarheels from once more attaining its honorable position of former years in the football history of the South.

And now for a few words on baseball. We were hopeful that something new might be told this morning. We had been promised some news as to what our manager was doing in the wilds, but the information failed to arrive. We understand that Lee Garvin is on the job, signing players and making trades, but anything more definite has not been obtained. Bud Ryan is a good man, and if he will live up to his reputation as a finder of loose material Richmond may—and may is about as far as we care to go this November 30—have a team that will win a pennant.

Announcement from the meeting of the Virginia League magnates that Portsmouth was to stay in the league next season, and that new owners would appear, means that Lee Garvin is to come back to Virginia. We had a letter from Lee just a day or two ago. He is at his home in the city of Lee Summit, Mo., which is about where Lee Garvin comes from, not that there is any connection between Lee Garvin and Jesse James, merely to state a fact. Lee wants to know how things were going, adding that he would pass up the Virginia League, much as he
